SUPPORT THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINEES

The Democratic Campaign in this state is drawing to a close. It has been a short and vigorous contest. The Campaign Committee under the skillful direction of Mr. Thos. S. Rhea has made one of the most effective organizations ever brought together in Kentucky. With a Campaign Chairman in every county and a live, active Committee in every precinct, nothing has been left undone to interest the individual democratic voter. The result is that the united Democracy will go to the polls on November 3rd, to cast their votes for Governor Beckham and Senator Camden for the senate and for J. Campbell Cantrill democratic nominee for Congress in this district. In this final week of the Campaign every Democratic leader in the state is on the stump urging the voters to roll up an old time democratic majority for the whole ticket. Senator James has returned from Washington and the democratic nominees for Congress are giving an account of their stewardship in their respective districts.

While there is every assurance of an easy victory the Democratic Campaign Committee is leaving nothing to chance and is working just as hard as if the Republicans had a strong candidate and a thorough organization. The only fear is that Democratic voters may stay away from the polls. Chairman Rhea of the Campaign Committee urges every democratic voter to go to the polls early and take his neighbor with him and cast his vote for the straight ticket.

The personal interest that President Wilson has shown in the election of Democratic Senators and Congressmen from this state has brought to the Democratic voters a realizing sense of the importance of this contest. He is looking to Kentucky to give him a practically sold delegation in Congress to aid him in the settlement of the great problems that confront the administration. One stamp under the rooster will cast a vote for Governor Beckham and Senator Camden and your democratic nominee for Congress. Cast it early, and help to put the whole state in line with the progressive policies of the ablest President we have had in the White House since Thomas Jefferson.

DEMOCRACY AROUSED.

Secretary of State Bryan's visit to Kentucky has served to arouse the State Democracy to the importance of the November election. He made it very clear that praise of President Wilson's policies counts for nothing unless the voters who commend him go to the polls and vote for the Democratic candidates in the Senate and in the House who will continue to vote with the President. This is not a one-man government, although Woodrow Wilson has the ability to run it single-handed. He must have Democratic majorities in both of the Houses or the great work he has undertaken for the reform of the currency and the revival of business will prove a failure.

WILLSON REPUDIATED.

There must be something radically wrong with Gus Willson when practically all the leaders of the Republican party condemn him as untrustworthy and inefficient. They regard him as a shallow, selfish politician, lacking in sincerity and ability. In the reorganization of the Republican party they are realizing the necessity of getting rid of the old reactionary office holders like Willson, who has lost the confidence of the people. It is a modest estimate to say that Gus Willson will run 25,000 votes behind his ticket.

WON'T STAND FOR HIM.

Judge Orear, who was the Republican nominee for Governor three years ago, has openly denounced Gus Willson, the Republican nominee for the Senate, as unworthy of the support of any honest Republican. He has refused to take the stump for Willson, and he is privately informing his Republican and Progressive friends that their most sacred duty to their party and their State is to retire Willson to private life forever.

LET'S HOPES THIS DREAM COMES TRUE.

An interurban railway from Paris to Carlisle is being agitated since the Louisville & Nashville railroad has reduced the number of trains through the latter city and taken off the Sunday passenger trains.

Now that such an excellent move has been started just let us add a line. You know that since the great European conflict has started many, many dreams which seemed impossible have come to pass.

Granted that an interurban railway has been placed between the city of Paris and that of our neighbor Carlisle. Could not this electric line be easily pushed on to Maysville? Most assuredly! Then push the good work forward and run it down to New Richmond, O., where an interurban railway goes to Cincinnati.

Dreams! Could a dream of this nature come true? What would be the result of such a feat as this? We can readily see the growth of Paris, of Carlisle, of Maysville and every other town through which this line would pass. The world of progress is rapidly forging forward, therefore let us all consider how an electric railway would benefit our town.

Lower rates for transportation and closer relationship of the farmer and the city man, feature mainly the great benefits. Also many others too numerous to mention.

Let all of Paris unite and talk this thing. Something might break loose real suddenly and an opportunity present itself. Then we can grasp the chance and make this dream come true. What do you think about it?

THEATRICAL.

The Alamo, Tuesday.

Essanay's photoplay masterpiece, "The Good For Nothing," featuring Mr. G. M. Anderson, as Gilbert Sterling the "Good For Nothing." The story of this picture can be obtained at the Box Office of Alamo Theatre.—(Adv.)

Paris Grand, Wednesday.

The Lubin Company presents Evelyn Nesbitt Thaw and her son, Russell Thaw, in "Threads of Destiny," a wonderful five act drama of Russian life. This is one of the most expensive pictures ever shown in Paris and will be shown for one night only, Wednesday, Nov. 4.

In connection with this picture there will be shown Klaw and Erlanger's big three reel feature, "Woman Against Woman." This is said to be one of the best pictures that Klaw and Erlanger have ever produced.

Gregg's Imperial Orchestra of the Colonial Theatre, Lexington, will furnish special music for this occasion.

There will be one performance only, beginning promptly at 8 o'clock p. m. Reserved seats can be secured at the Box Office of Alamo Theatre, beginning Monday, Nov. 2.

Secure your tickets in advance and witness two of the best pictures you ever saw.

The next attraction at the Paris Grand will be on Thursday night, Nov. 12—Essanay's big feature photoplay, "One Wonderful Night," featuring Francis X. Bushman, and Selig's big sensational feature, "The Royal Box," with Gregg's Imperial Orchestra.—(Adv.)

"TH GIRL OF MY DREAMS."

"Doctor Tinkle Tinker," a song number from "The Girl of My Dreams" is one of the many hits of that splendid musical comedy, which has created an unprecedented success at the Illinois Theater, Chicago, Criterion Theater, New York City, Garrick Theater, Philadelphia and the Colonial Theater, Boston.

The music of "The Girl of My Dreams" is by the late Karl Hoschna, who has been compared to Suppe by some of the musical critics and who was a finished musician in every way, having had a thorough musical education in Vienna, the home of great musicians, and who served in the Royal Orchestra in that city for several years. He is also the composer of "Madame Sherry" and "Doctor De Luxe." The book of "The Girl of My Dreams" is by Wilbur D. Nesbit and Otto Hauerbach.

Unlike other musical shows, every number in this piece is a distinct and separate hit. Especially is this so of "O-o-h! Maybe It's a Robber!" and "Doctor Tinkle Tinker." Already these two big song hits are being sung all over the country and theatergoers as well as the press are praising it in the highest terms.

"The Girl of My Dreams" will be seen at the Ben Ali, in Lexington, tomorrow matinee and night. Seats now selling.—(adv.)

MATRIMONIAL.

HALL—BRYANT.

—Mr. Earl Bryant, of Lexington, distributor for the National Biscuit Co., and Miss Anna V. Hall, of the same city, accompanied by Mrs. D. P. Brandenburg, came to Paris Tuesday and were granted marriage license by County Clerk Pearce Paton. On account of the youthful appearance of the couple County Clerk Paton requested them to make affidavits to the effect that they were more than twenty-one years of age.

They went to the home of Dr. B. M. Shive, on Duncan Avenue, who performed the ceremony.

SANFORD—METCALFE.

—Invitations as follows have been received by friends in Paris: "Judge and Mrs. Edward Terry Sanford request the honor your presence at the marriage of their daughter, Dorothy, to Mr. James Garrison Metcalfe on Wednesday, eleventh of November at half after eight o'clock at fourteen hundred and one Cumberland Avenue West Knoxville, Tennessee. At home after the first of December, Paris Kentucky." Mr. Metcalfe is Master of Trains on this division of the L. & N., with headquarters in Paris, succeeding Mr. W. O. Chambers.

ASHBROOK—STRONG.

—Sly Dan Cupid made another entry in his books last night when he put a check mark opposite the name of Miss Mary Ashbrook, and noted: "Now Mrs. C. C. Strong."

The marriage took place at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Frank P. Kiser, on Houston Avenue, at six o'clock last night, only immediate friends and relatives being present. Eld. W. E. Ellis, of the Paris Christian Church, officiated.

Immediately following the ceremony, after receiving congratulations and good wishes the young couple took the 6:20 L. & N. train to Cincinnati, and from there to Detroit, Mich. After a short visit they will go to New Orleans, and to Pensacola, Florida, to visit the bride's mother, Mrs. Rachel Ashbrook Barlow, and then to the groom's home in Erion, Tennessee, where he is stationed as resident civil engineer in railroad work.

The groom is a graduate of Yale, a grandson of ex-Postmaster-General Marshall Jewell and his marked ability has won him a high place in his profession.

The bride is a charming and attractive young woman, who has been making her home in Pensacola, Fla., and her sister, Mrs. L. J. Smith, are residing. She is a graduate of Hamilton College, and is possessed of the rare graces of character that have endeared her to a large circle of friends.

Had the Right Idea.

The tailor's sign in a little inland town was an apple—simply an apple. The people were amazed at it. They came in crowds to the tailor, asking him what on earth the meaning of the sign was. The tailor, with a complacent smile, replied: "If it hadn't been for an apple, where would the clothing business be today?"

LUKE McLUKE SAYS.

(Cincinnati Enquirer.)

What has become of the old-fashioned woman who used to give her son a mouth wash of soap when she heard him swearing?

We are always too busy to push a man when he is trying to get up the hill. But we are never too busy to shove him when he starts down hill.

A show that is coming to town advertises as its great feature: "The Girl Who Throws The Bull." But why feature her? Every girl we know can do that.

You may have noticed that when a Reformer has a Message To The People he always wants to send it collected.

Edison is a fair-to-middling sort of a fellow. But the man who invented kissing got his reward before he died.

There are all sorts of people in the world, including the man who brags that only men who know how to read and write are sent to the penitentiary for forgery.

Every week or two the Scientists discover something that will bring the dead back to life. But the Undertakers insist upon being foolish with their money and invest it in new hearses and more caskets.

What has become of the old-fashioned dude who sopped his hair so that it would lie flat on his forehead.

When a working girl gets the Princess idea into her head she wears tennis shoes and carries a tennis racquet so you won't know she is on her way to the factory.

It makes a big difference to a man whether the bamboo he is holding is at the end of a fishing pole or a carpet beater.

Doesn't it make you feel old when men who have Grover Cleveland as their first two names are applying for marriage license?

There are other sorrows in life, but it is pretty tough for a girl to be engaged to a fellow and have a passionate love for raw onions.

The rich husband can get by with a yarn about his auto stalling when he is late. But the poor guy who has to use the street cars is always a liar when the motorman gets careless.

A woman's idea of Extravagance is to spend more than a dime in a ten-cent store.

Many a poor man spends good money to have his daughter's voice cultivated and discovers later on that she was cultivating her imagination.

With a bracelet watch on her wrist and clocks on her stockings, there is no excuse for a girl not being on time.

Why is it that a corn-fed girl with a wobble, who is attracting the attention of all the men, is busy envying a girl with a shape like a Herring just because the Herring shape is in style?
